Medicinal Symbols of Success

A vacant chair and a portrait on the wall—strange symbols of success! Yet, in many a home these are the symbols of the success of the man who did not find time to care for his health, or neglected the increasing warnings of disease which Nature gave him. When the stomach is "weak" and food is imperfectly digested and assimilated, it is only a question of time until the break-down comes. The stomach is the very center of vital power and must be kept in health if sickness is to be avoided. Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It increases the supply of pure, rich blood, and gives the body strength to withstand the strain put upon it by the struggle for success.

"I was a sufferer from what the doctors called indigestion, but after trying several eminent physicians failed to get a cure," writes Mr. Frank Mericle, of Independence, Jackson Co., Mo., Box 473. "Some of my symptoms were soreness in pit of stomach, fullness, tired feeling, constipation; sometimes soreness would extend to bowels. Some one recommended me to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which I did, and after taking only a few bottles of 'Discovery' and your Pleasant Pellets' can say I derived more benefit from them than from any other medicine I ever tried. I began to gain flesh from the start. I have recommended it to others and will continue to do so."

The sluggish liver made active by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

CATARRH

Nothing but a local remedy or change of climate will cure Catarrh. The specific is Ely's Cream Balm. It is quickly absorbed. Gives relief at once. Opens and cleanses the nasal passages. Alleviates inflammation. Heals and protects the membrane. Restores the senses of Taste and Smell. No other medicine is so effective. Regular size, 50 cents; Family Size, $1.00, at Druggists. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren Street, New York.

FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS.

AN OLD AND WELL-TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures colic and is the best remedy for Diarrhea. It is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other kind.

The stomach controls the situation. Those who are hearty and strong are those who can eat and digest plenty of food. Kodol Dyspepsia Cures what you eat and allows you to eat all the good food you want. If you suffer from indigestion, heartburn, belching or any other stomach trouble, this preparation can't help but do you good. The most sensitive stomachs can take it.

[COMMUNICATED.]

A SCATHING INDICTMENT.

[By Rev. S. B. Alderson, D. D.]

At a mass meeting in the Second Presbyterian Church, Portsmouth, O., a recent Sabbath afternoon, in the presence of over two hundred men, a converted gambler and ex-saloonkeeper made the following statement, which has created a profound impression, and I herewith transmit it to your paper that it may do good in a wider sphere:

"I have been in the saloon business, with a gambling room attached, for the last four years, and claim to know something about what I am now going to tell you. I do not believe that the gambling den is nearly so dangerous, nor does it do anything like the same amount of harm as the social card party in the home. I give this as my reason: In the gambling room the windows are closed tight, the curtains are pulled down; everything is conducted secretly for fear of detection, and none but gamblers, as a rule, enter there; while in the parlors all have access to the game, children are permitted to watch it, young people are invited to participate in it. It is made attractive and alluring by giving prizes, serving refreshments and adding high social enjoyments. For my part, I never could see the difference between playing for a piece of silver molded in the shape of a money and silver molded in the shape of a cup or a tumbler. The principle is the same, and whenever property hangs hands over the luck of the cards, no matter how small is the value of the prize, I believe it is gambling. Have you ever thought of it? Where do all the gamblers come from? They are not taught in the gambling dens. A 'greener,' unless he is a fool, never enters a gambling hall, because he knows that he will be fleeced out of everything he possesses in less than fifteen minutes. He has learned somewhere else before he sets foot inside of such a place. When he has played in the parlors, in the social game of the home, and has become proficient enough to win prizes among his friends, the next step with him is to seek out the gambling room, for he has learned, and now counts upon his efficiency to hold his own. The saloon men and gamblers chuckle and smile when they read in the papers of the parlor games given by the ladies, for they know that after a while these same men will become the patrons of their business. I say, then, the parlor game is the college where gamblers are made and educated. In the name of God, men, stop this business in your homes. Burn up your decks and wash your hands. After taking the seat another converted ex-gambler, who led the men's meeting in the Second Presbyterian Church the following Sabbath, arose and said: 'I indorse every word which the brother before me has just uttered. I was a gambler. I learned to play cards, not in the saloon, not in my own home, but in the homes of my young friends, who invited me to play with them and taught me how.'

I send you these testimonies, hoping that you can use them, and that God will send through them a note of warning to card playing Christians. A number of men went home from that afternoon meeting and set up a new rule in the families, that never should another game be played inside their house; that their parlors should not become kindergartens for training young gamblers.' [From the Christian Observer of February 6, 1901, published at Lexington, Ky.]

A STRANGE STORY.

Miss Julia Murry died Saturday at her home in Yonkers, N. Y. Miss Murry was one of the most popular young women in the northern section of the city, and several of her friends stayed over night at the house. The body was in the parlor where some of Miss Murry's friends sat through the night, others being scattered through the house. Miss Katie Kane, of Brooklyn, a cousin of Miss Murry, about half-past four Tuesday morning started to go through the bedroom, which Miss Murry died. She suddenly stopped. 'My God!' she cried, 'there is Julia.' With this exclamation she dropped to her knees, and covering her face with her hands, commenced praying. Miss Nora Smith was near by. She looked where Miss Kane had pointed and then fainted. Miss Rose Kearns ran into the room from the parlor, locked one, and then, hiding her face in her hands ran out through the other room screaming 'Wa. Murry, brother of the dead girl, and Mrs. James Corbally, ran to the room and they too saw the vision. Misses Rose and Winnie McGowan also saw it before it faded. Descriptions of the vision by each of the witnesses agree to the minutest details. Each person was seen individually and at different places by a correspondent Tuesday morning. They describe the vision as a representation or picture of the dead girl, showing the head and part of the body, surrounded by a halo, which seemed to lose itself in the clouds, while the clothing, the hands were crossed on the breast from shoulder to shoulder, the features were

BREAD.

CORBY'S MOTHER'S BREAD

DELIVERED IN ALEXANDRIA DAILY.

Corby's Mother's Bread is "homemade" in every sense of the word, except literally. Made from the best flour, and is pure and wholesome. Scientific machinery and a patent dough mixer develop every particle of the nutrition in the flour and produces bread that is superior to any other.

It has a larger sale in the city of Washington than any other bread and is meeting with an increased demand every day in Alexandria. Your grocer has it, or will obtain it for you.

very distinct. On the head was a wreath and hanging from one hand was a rosary. Starting at a corner away from the parlor, the apparition seemed to move slowly along the wall in the direction of the parlor, the arms unfolding. Arriving at the corner of the room nearest the parlor, the figure slowly faded away, according to all the witnesses, leaving the bright cloud light on the wall for some time. It is estimated that the vision lasted for from three to five minutes. The entire party stood spellbound until the strange light had faded away.
